Spring Wines

Spring at Elk Cove

There's nothing like the gradual unfolding of the season here in the foothills of the Oregon Coast Range. The treefrogs are singing. The gardens are in bloom. Our vines are pruned and trained to their trellises. Soon our growing season will begin with what we call budbreak, the unfurling of grape leaves from their woolly buds.

We've finished bottling our rosé and white wines. In 2022 we brought in beautifully aromatic fruit that benefited from long hang-time during one of our latest harvests in years. We are very excited to share the first wines of the vintage with you!

Spring's mild temperatures make this an ideal time to ship wine, so we're running generous shipping specials in April and May to help you stock up for summer.

We send you warm wishes for a delightful spring. Cheers to a fruitful 2023 growing season!
